ABOUT JENNY: As a first-generation Italian with Midwestern sensibilities and strong physical presence, Jenny brings complexity and depth to every role. Known for blending intensity, physicality, sharp wit, and kindness, she thrives in roles that depict the raw and messy nature of being human, with a few laughs along the way. Think protective mother in an indie drama, a powerhouse CEO in a male-dominated field in a network drama, or the sarcastic best friend in an indie rom-com. Recent bookings include Kristine Linde in A Doll's House, a meaty co-star role on network TV, multiple regional and national commercials, and one of the leads in an indie rom-com television show being shot in 2026. Jenny plays characters in the late 20s-early 30s age range, yet brings a life full of real experiences, including a 15-year career in Marketing, to her work.
